

MULTIMA

Cross-cultural Texts. Languages, objects, and the transmission of the rituals. An interdisciplinary and comparative analysis on some unsearched ritual practices in the Graeco-Egyptian papyri (PGM)

International Conference - Venice, Aula Baratto – 8th April, 2014

Ancient traditions and the current approaches of the scholars: many languages of today, for many cultures of the past

PROGRAMME

9.45-10.15	Introduction Paolo Eleuteri Director of the Dipartimento di Studi Umanistici Sabina Crippa – Emanuele M. Ciampini
Chairman	Filippo M. Carinci
10.15-10.45	Madalina Vartejanu Joubert – Paris Des textes et des concepts : syncrétisme, acculturation, bricolage.
10.45-11.15	Yvan Koenig – Paris The use of Pharaonic Traditions in Greek Magical Texts
11.15-11.45	Break
11.45-12.15	Magali de Haro Sanchez – Liège Appréhender les influences multiculturelles sur les papyrus magiques grecs : résultats, limites et perspectives de l'étude des marqueurs d'identité culturelle
12.15-12.45	Alessandro Roccati – Torino La trasmissione transculturale di letteratura magico-religiosa nell'Egitto antico.
12.45-13.15	Discussion
13.15-15.00	Lunch
Chairman	Lucio Milano
15.00-15.30	Raquel Martín Hernández – Madrid Selecting spells for a magical handbook. On PGM VII and 'stereotype appropriation'.
15.30-16.00	Rita Lucarelli – Bonn The donkey in the Graeco-Egyptian papyri
16.00-16.30	Chris Faraone – Chicago Protective Statues and Other Amulets: The Recipes in the Greek Magical Papyri
16.30-17.30	Discussion & round table on the Conference subjects
17.30	Leave-Taking